

nonewprivs

A simple go app that prints the UID of the process running to test security context features.