

Empty Object Returned From `getInitialProps`

Why This Error Occurred

In one of your page components you added a `getInitialProps` that returned an empty object. This de-optimizes automatic static optimization. If you meant to do this and understand the consequences you can ignore this message as it is only shown in development.

Possible Ways to Fix It

Look for any page's using `getInitialProps` that return an empty object `{}`. You might also need to update higher order components (HOCs) to only add `getInitialProps` if they are present on the passed component.
