

This directory contains binaries and utils required for input preprocessing, tokenization, etc that can be used with model building blocks available in NLP modeling library nlp/modelling, to train custom models and validate new research ideas.