

Flutter Conductor Protocol Buffers

This directory contains `conductor_state.proto`, which defines the persistent state file the conductor creates. After changes to this file, you must run the `compile_proto.sh` script in this directory, which will re-generate the rest of the Dart files in this directory, format them, and prepend the license comment from `license_header.txt`.