The tag is a small but useful element that can be used in many contexts, to enhance the meaning of the text it's attached to.

A tag rarely comes on its own though, so Bulma now supports list of tags. The same way you can group controls, you can now group tags together to form a list that can span multiple lines.

List of tags in CSS

As a bonus, there is also a delete tag available!