This package exists to test dynamic imports from packages that are prefixed by a username, and thus have a colon between the username and the package name.