Internal Modules

The modules in `lib/internal` are intended for internal use in Node.js core only, and are not accessible with `require()` from user modules. These modules can be changed at any time. Reliance on these modules outside of core is not supported in any way.