Windows installer should not require TargetDir parameter when installing quietly.